

IN00-CHINA

of French sovereignty and influence the Far by of cultural penetration—an ideal that to the of commercial profits in South China, of the Legations in China, hitherto parsimoniously as as schools and Missions, were to achieve tins at The general budget, as well as Annamite has under this irrelevant burden.
Doctors are to Yunnan's epidemics, and rice to solace its famine-HMo-CMna itself is miserably in need of such cultivated with Yunnanese mandarins: was to be maintained; the dismemberment tempta- tion had The cultural side of the expansionist programme
but had deflated.
The French sympathized with China's 1912 revolu- tion. In its consequence was to bring to the fore the of the Chinese. Hitherto a weak central government m to support their demands; now it was the would and could better their status m The of the Young Chinese over the Yunnan
and extra-territorial privileges in China might itself a lever to the treatment of their compatriots in The formaEties—medical examinations and — as insulting; the high taxes on Chinese and, above all, they wanted Chinese in tlhe to nationals. In addition, they of tike on Chinese goods entering or These pre-War grievances found a in and its support of Anna-The fact had twice refused to extradite he in colony, was only a slight m Cantonese offered shelter

to the to even put up a monument at Merlin while he was to be that city's Incidents on the in 1936 with the murder «f ti» at showed an a^ravation of fit of la fit was that nothing the of the country and tlte of tbe Tbe was earefofly
% ^ >> i but it
was so*